

Canadian Bureau for International Education

Call for Papers CBIE Graduate Research Series

We are currently accepting research papers for the 2017 CBIE Graduate Research Series. The series explores current social, cultural, management and policy-related issues of international education.

To tie into the ongoing national campaign to inspire learning abroad, researchers are invited to submit papers reflecting this theme, including but not limited to:

- International Work Integrated Learning
- Learning Abroad Outcomes and Benefits (employment, social etc.)
- Service Learning Abroad
- Internship Abroad
- Internationalizing Curriculum
- Research Abroad
- Faculty-Led Programs Abroad
- Field Schools
- Exchange
- Intercultural Learning
- Volunteering Abroad
- Global Citizenship
- International Experience Accreditation

Selected papers will be widely publicized digitally and published by CBIE online at www.cbie-bcei.ca

Eligibility

- Submissions are welcome from students at CBIE member institutions studying towards a graduate degree or post-doctoral certificate, or who have completed their studies at a member institution within the academic year preceding the submission deadline.
- Submissions will also be accepted from professionals at CBIE member institutions who are pursuing research and/or advanced studies in international education either part-time or full time.

Selection Process

Submissions will be reviewed by a panel of experts in the field of international education.

Submission details

Submission language: English or French

Length: Maximum 3,000 words (excluding works cited/bibliography)

Font: 12 point

File type: Word

Deadline for submission for 2017 publication: July 1, 2017

Submit to: research-recherche@cbie.ca